Chairman's Welcome

Colleagues,

Welcome to the 1st Issue of GBA News for the academic year 2020/21. We hope you have had the opportunity for some rest and are feeling positive about the return to school.

We very much appreciate that these are challenging times and are grateful for the leadership and perseverance that you have shown. The work that you do on behalf of our children and young people is invaluable.

I would like to take this opportunity to welcome you back to the new school year and wish you every success in implementing what will be a very different year in many ways.

GBA will continue to support and advocate for our member schools. Thank you for your continued engagement with us.

With best wishes,

Terry McDaid
GBA Chairman

Education Restart

Revised guidance was issued last week for the reopening of schools . Up-to-date guidance documents can be accessed here.

The guidance will continue to be reviewed in response to any changes in the public health position.

On Tuesday, Education Minister, Peter Weir, briefed the NI Assembly's Education Committee, answering questions on the updated guidance and giving reassurances on the safe reopening of schools. You can watch the session here.

Please contact us with any Covid-19 related issues or feedback. We are in regular contact with various stakeholders and will voice any concerns regarding the return to school on your behalf.

Expert Panel on Educational Underachievement Established

The Education Minister has announced the appointment of an Expert Panel to examine the links between educational underachievement and social disadvantage.

The panel has been established under the 'New Decade, New Approach' agreement which sets out the requirement for an expert group to examine and address links between persistent educational underachievement and socio-economic background, including the long-standing issues facing working-class Protestant boys.

The panel members are:

- Dr Noel Purdy will Chair the panel. He is currently the Director of Research and Scholarship at Stranmillis University College, where he is also the Director of the Centre for Research in Educational Underachievement.
- Mary Montgomery is currently the Principal of Belfast Boys Model School which has one of the highest levels of attainment for Protestant FSM boys coming from an area of economic deprivation.
- Kathleen O'Hare recently retired as the Principal of Hazelwood Integrated College, and was formerly Principal of St Cecilia's College.
- Joyce Logue is the Principal of Longtower Primary in Derry/Londonderry which predominantly serves a pupil population within areas of significant economic and social deprivation such as the Brandywell and Bogside.

- Jackie Redpath is the Chief Executive of the Greater Shankill Partnership and he has significant and longstanding experience addressing the issue of educational under-achievement, particularly with FSM Protestant Boys within a community setting.
- Professor Feyisa Demie is an Honorary Professor at the School of Education at Durham University and also head of research for school self-evaluation at Lambeth Local Authority in London. He has worked extensively with government departments for over 25 years in the use of data and research to raise educational achievement.

The Panel will engage with organisations which have experience of the issues associated with educational underachievement. This includes parents and children as well as the wider education sector, government, the voluntary and community sector, business representative organisations and the Northern Ireland Commissioner for Children and Young People.

A subgroup of GBA Executive Members has been created to discuss policy around educational underachievement. If you would like to submit any feedback on the matter for discussion or would like to be involved on the subgroup, please let us know.
